That would be helpful.

I was going put in links to PAIR, The patent image database, with some brief instructions (like PTEs can often be found on certificates of correction).

Nice job. I don't get what you mean when you refer to hyperlinks.

Elizabeth and Emmanuel,

Attached is a bot that calculatates patent expiration dates (beta version). Can you please take a look and let me know what you think? It should run in any browser (it was tested on chrome).

I think an improvement would be to hyperlinks to where all of this importation can be found and to remind users to check certificate of corrections.

I have to hand this in tonight.

Looking forward to your thoughts!

Thanks,

C
